Ryan,

I didn't mean to put this off a week, I just wanted to get a little more information into it before sending. Comments below...

Adam,

Did DOE's reprogramming request pass?... No, at least not as of last week. DOE-RL will be making another push with Office of Management and Budget later this month.

What's the status of PILT in its '17 budget?... I don't know, other than that DOE-RL has requested the amount that we have billed them.

I assume the other local communities are aware of the smaller PILT payment made last April. What is their position?... I have talked with all but two parties. Everyone is concerned, especially Richland SD and Prosser SD, as we would expect. Richland SD is making bond payments with this money. I have asked each downstream recipient to send me information about how they use their PILT monies and I have received that information back from most, some in great detail, others less so. Ray Tolcacher (Prosser SD) and Rick Puryear (Richland SD) are ready to jump on a plane to DC if that's what it takes, so this is squarely on their radar. Special thanks to Duane's office for helping get all of the contacts for these entities.

Did you ever find out if DOE is short changing payments at any other sites in the country in amounts smaller than the settlement agreements called for?... I continue to ask about is, and there only seems to be one instance of it, and the circumstances of that were different. Oak Ridge (Roane County) was shorted last year about $34,000, but it seems to have been due to more of a clerical error in the billing. I don't know how quickly (or if) it was resolved, but at the time we discussed it my Roane County contact didn't seem to be concerned about it.

Other points...

Erik Olds from DOE-RL and his team will be meeting with DOE-HQ and OMB later in September and have asked for a statement from the County on how PILT is used. So I am preparing that over the weekend, hopefully having that on Tuesday and will send out to you. I'll be providing the same white paper/notes to Richland Mayor Bob Thompson, Kennewick Mayor Steve Young, and Franklin County Commissioner Rick Miller who will be meeting with OMB in mid-September while in DC for an ECA function (neither Commissioner Beaver nor myself are going to this ECA meeting).

I'll also be providing the same white paper and a briefing to Bob Suyama, our Hanford Advisory Board representative, as he tells me that the subject came up briefly at the last HAB meeting. He would like some background and expects an expanded conversation on the topic at the next HAB meeting (they meet every two months). While this generally isn't the sort of item the HAB wades into, a reprogramming request does have the potential for getting some antennae up.

I am planning to meet with the Franklin County BOCC and Treasurer later in September on the matter.

A major recent disappoint on this front came two weeks ago. We received word that coincident with the visit to the Hanford Site of Secretary Moniz, was also to be a visit from the OMB person who handles DOE budgeting, Donovan Robinson, and one of his superiors. Rich Buell, West Richland City Councilman and DOE public affairs employee, Pam Larsen from Hanford Communities, and myself all attempted to make voice and email contact with OMB and with Donovan directly to schedule a brief discussion. Not only did the meeting never happen, none of our inquiries were even responded to. Pam and Diahann Howard from Port of Benton mentioned this to Senator Cantwell directly last week in a meeting and they said the senator was pretty upset by the treatment.

Speaking of the senator, I am setting-up updates for her local staff (David Roeplog) and Congressman Newhouse's local staff (Josh Lozano); and will try to do the same for Senator Murray's staff, though that is tougher as I don't know her people and she doesn't have a local office.

More next week.

Subject: PILT briefing

I had a good discussion with Josh Lozano of Rep Newhouse's staff this morning.

I updated him on events to this point, then we spoke more in-depth about the '16 and '17 budgets. DOE-RL laid out a process in their recent letter to us that they say they are following to attempt to reprogram '16 cleanup funds to the PBS-100 line item to pay PILT. I think this will be a long-shot, but Josh seemed to be game for it and understood what they are trying to do. He said he will follow-up on that action both locally and in DC. We agreed that we would talk later about how to deal with the '17 budget and beyond.

Ryan and I also discussed our response to RL's recent letter and action, and I'll begin preparing a draft to be sent to Monica Regalbuto, the director of DOE's Environmental Management office (that which oversees cleanup, Hanford, etc). We will take the position that PILT is a DOE responsibility, not an RL discretion.

I'll be arranging discussions with Franklin County, Grant County, and our downstream PILT recipients as well. I let Josh know that the congressman might start hearing from some of these folks now that they are receiving 20% of ½ of their PILT, or whatever it is. He expects as much.

More later.
